

Government Funding Programs

Following are notable government funding programs and incentives for completing energy efficiency and water conservation upgrades to your home or business:

Bay Area Regional Energy Network: Single-Family Home Upgrades

Take the Whole-House Approach to Energy Efficiency! New programs and updates are now available for homeowners of single-family homes and 2-4 unit buildings in the Bay Area who make energy-efficient home improvements. Eligible improvements include air sealing; duct sealing; attic insulation; high-efficiency furnaces, cooling systems, and water systems; wall insulation; cool roof; interior and exterior lighting; whole-house fan; windows; and more. Homeowners are eligible for incentives from $1,500 to $3,000, plus a $150 incentive towards a combustion appliance safety test with an Energy Upgrade California® Home Upgrade. Alternatively, homeowners are eligible for incentives up to $6,500 in rebates, plus a $300 home energy assessment rebate, with an Advanced Home Upgrade.

In addition, Home Upgrade Advisors, who are Building Performance Institute-certified energy-efficiency professionals, can provide free direct one-to-one assistance to help homeowners through every step of the upgrade. Homeowners can contact a Home Upgrade Advisor by calling (866) 878-6008 or by submitting a brief form on the Bay Area Energy Upgrade website. The website also features a list of participating contractors in the Bay Area. Homeowners who are ready to begin their upgrade can contact a participating contractor directly.
